GOT MONEY ON A BOGUS CHECK

Detectives Looking for Young O'Brien, of Lynchburg.

USED THE NAME OF A FRIEND

Tried to "Work a Clothing Store, But Failed.

The present whereabouts of a young man named O'Brien, whose home is in Lynchburg, are being earnestly sought by Mr. R. B. McMullen, of this city, and he is being assisted in his quest by Captain Alex. M, Tomlinson and his staff of de-

Though no warrant has been sworn out, Mr. McMullen makes the serious complaint to the police that young O'Brien used his name on a check for $50 which was readily cashed by the Merchants National Bank, where Mr. Mc-Mullen keeps an account.

It is further alleged that the Lynchburger presented an order, purporting to have been signed by Mr. McMullen, to the Gans-Rady Company for a clothing bill, but the firm grew suspicious and the

The story is full of interest, O'Brien came here a few weeks ago in search of work. He knew the McMullens, they having originally lived in the Hill City. So the young man soon met Mr. A. B. McMullen, who is a son of Policeman J. H. McMullen, of the Second Station, and got into his confidence.

Mr. McMullen is a locomotive fireman by trade, but at present is unemployed. He resides with his father at No. 615 Beverly Street. O'Brien was often with young McMullen, and had many times been to his home. McMullen had laid aside a portion of his earnings, and had a nice little bank account. Somehow, O'Brien learned where it was kept. On Monday last he presented a check to the paying teller of the bank, the amount of which was $50, and it was promptly cashed, it bearing the name of "A. B. McMullen," whose account was sufficiently flush to stand it.

The Cold Shoulder. The Cold Shoulder.

The Cold Shoulder.

On Tuesday O'Brien presented an order signed "A. B. McMullen," to the Gans-Rady store, but the clerk would not honor it until he consulted his employers. The result was that the clothes did not go, but the young man did, and neither Captain Tomlinsor nor Mr. McMullen have heard anything to indicate his whereabouts.

Mr. McMullen did not swear out a warrant, because he desired if possible to recover his money from his former friend. For this reason he quietly informed the detectives and they set to work on the case. So far there have been no results, and it is believed the young man has gone from the capital city.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ETTRICKS, VA., June 7.-An agent from Roanoke Rapids and one from Rose. mary, N. C., were here a few days since for hands to work in the cotton mills at those towns. They offer good wages and it is highly propable they will carry some help from the Pocahontis mill—the only cotton mill in this immediate neighborhood now running—as they have never restored the 10 per cent, cut in pay, which was taken off some time since. Some of the hands have left already, and more are to leave next week.
Without a great change in their methods,
the cotton mill industry around here
may be said to be doomed.

A new industry has sprung up, however, which may save Ettricks from ruin

Negotiations in Chicago Strike Matter Called Off Last Night.

EMPLOYERS REFUSE DEMANDS

Bloodshed Resulted From Street Railway Strike in Saginaw Valley.

CHICAGO, June 7 .- After a five-hour sociation and the committee appointed by the teamsters' joint council, with full power to settle the strike, all negotiations were declared off to-night, and there is no immediate probability of a settlement.

posals which the employers flatly refused to consider at all. Chief among these was that if the strike was declared off all the police and deputy sheriffs who are now protecting non-union men should be withdrawn; that the business houses refuse to receive from or deliver to the express companies any merchandise that all the strikers be given positions before any new non-union men were hired.

There were a number of other demands made by the teamsters, which might have received favorable consideration, but the parties to the conference was so divided on the chief demands made by the unions that there was no use of taking them up. There is a faint possibility that the conference may be resumed to-morrow.

MENACING FIRE AT CEDAR WORKS

Blaze in Paint Department Brings Out Many Fire-Fighters. Prompt and efficient work on the part of engine companies Nos. 8 and 2, of the city Fire Department and the private de-partment of the Richmond Cedar Works, city Fire Department and the private department of the Richmond Cedar Works, prevented a very serious fire at the Cedar Works at 6:45 o'clook last evening.

A dense smoke was detected by Watchman Ball gushing from the cellar of warehouse No. 2, an immense live-story structure, filled from top to bottom with woodenware of every description. The watchman lost no time in turning in the private and general fire alarm and in a few minutes two steamers and a force of sixty private firemen were on the scene. Upon investigation, the fire was discovered leaping from a pot, containing varnish, composed of aluminum and shellac, used for coating the metal parts of washing machatines. Owing to the dense smoke and the stiffling odor arising from the fire, the firemen were handleapped and suffered considerably in extinguishing the flames, which were fast spreading to the elevator shaft, which would have conveyed it to every floor of the immense structure. Effective work on the part of the firemen, confined the flames to the metal pot and it was extinguished with a very small loss.

The alarm and the blowing of the whistles of the works attracted a crowd of several thousand people.
